Problem Statement:-

“As a budding organization, Asmita recognizes the need for continuous development and technological advancement in today's world. It is imperative to integrate the latest technology into our daily organizational operations. We strongly acknowledge the necessity of enhancing our technical capabilities and therefore seek to engage with this platform for this purpose.

So far, we have encountered challenges in improving our visibility on social media platforms and establishing a dedicated webpage to showcase our work, which is essential for reaching potential funders. Additionally, we aim to establish a systematic process for field data collection and implement various Monitoring, Evaluation, Accountability, and Learning (MEAL) tools to enhance our work.

Upon reviewing the offerings of the changemaker website, we are confident that collaborating with fellows proficient in various domains can greatly benefit us, as they have already assisted others in similar endeavors. We are committed to ensuring a mutually beneficial collaboration and are prepared to provide assistance as needed from our end.
