

Intro

Online communities are essential, and Discourse forums stand out as a crucial tool in creating engaging digital spaces. This book is about building such Discourse communities, and is meant for two key audiences:

For NGOs and Community Builders: Discover how to bring your community online with healthier interactions and engagement.

For Tech Enthusiasts: If you're searching for the right forum tool to build communities or eager to help NGOs establish their forums, this guide is for you.

Let's start with Discourse forums and unlock the potential of creating vibrant online communities.
